PRESENTING THE

1956 Black Diamond

Centerville High School, Centerville, Iowa

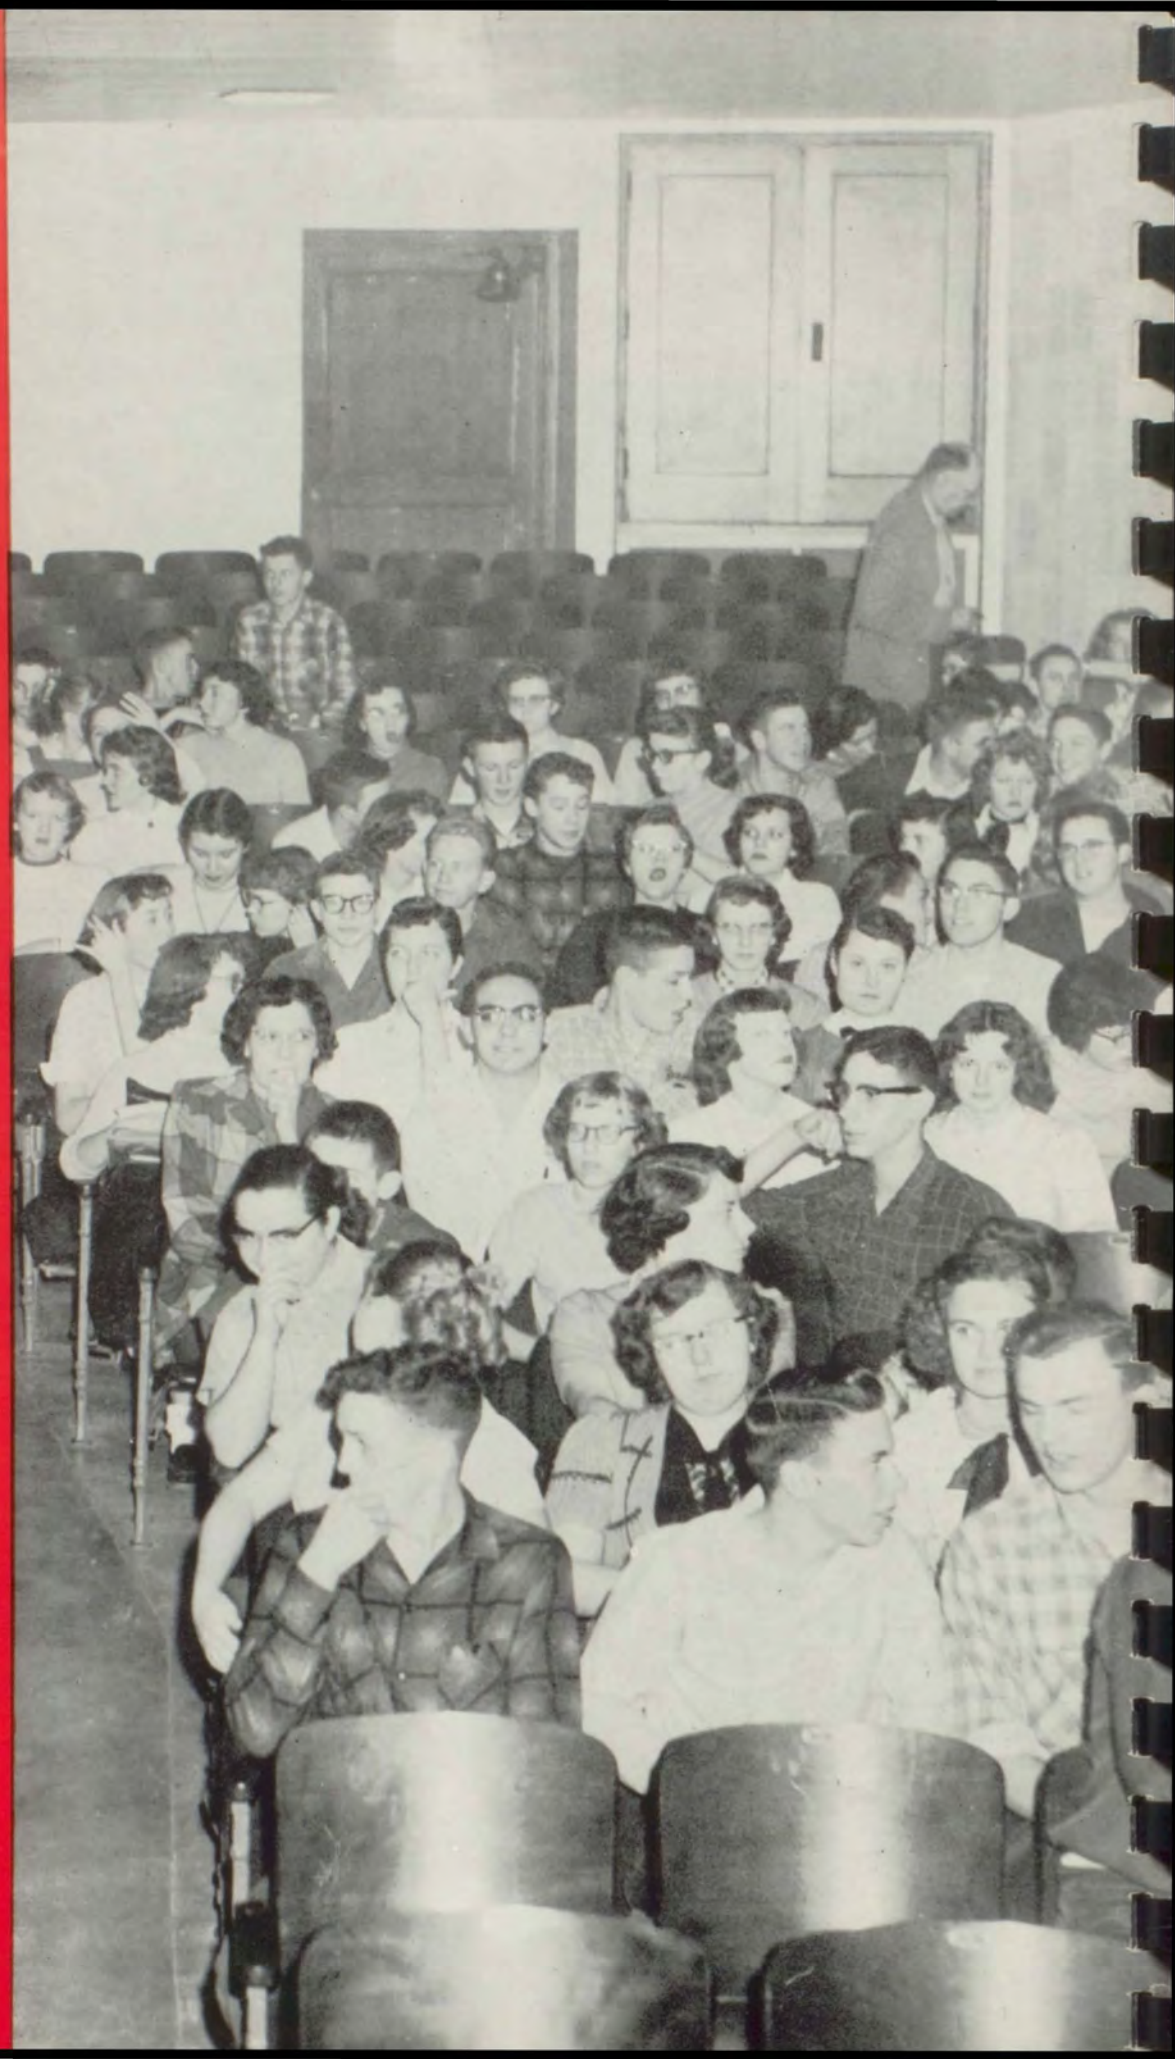

FOREWORD

Memories are wonderful things. They are recollections of past experiences . . . experiences which belong to you, the individual. To you, each memory tells a tale.

Your memories of this past school year seem fresh and very much alive. Your recollections of Homecoming and the dance, of the basketball game and the track meet, of the terribly hard test, of the boy or the girl, of the teacher and the homework, all seem like memories of yesterday. But as the years speed on ahead, as time consumes other memories of things to come, your thoughts of C.H.S., 1956, will slowly fade.

With this in mind the Black Diamond Staff has again produced a yearbook . . . one that will serve as a reflection of your 1956 experiences. May we present them again to you in this book . . . the 1956 Black Diamond.

Seniors Close With a Profitable Year

The 116 members of the senior class chose their leaders by electing the Proletariat party to office. Under the guidance of the officers, Frank Sconzo, Joe Walker, Judy Wiles, and Janan Strandberg, the class was organized into companies and began to look ahead to a senior trip in May. A chili supper, a Big Reds vs Faculty basketball game, the Teen-Time Talent Show, the Senior Class Play, and several other projects fattened the treasury enough to finance a memorable trip to Chicago.

Early in February, C.H.S. was represented in the speech contests by Mary Powers, who gave an interpretive reading, and Rosemary Parsons, Penny Hill, and Roscoe Daniels, who presented a one-act play. A little later many seniors were occupied with preparation for the music contests.

In May the juniors feted the seniors with a magnificent prom followed by the traditional all-night parties.

With graduation came many new and moving experiences for the seniors. Governor Hoegh's remarks at graduation brought to a close a way of life that would return only in the memories of the class of 1956.

JUNIORS

JUNIORS LOOK FORWARD TO 1957

The Junior class, with Ted Buttel as president for another year, began to assume the responsibilities of preparing for the annual Junior-Senior Prom. Other officers elected in the November election were Jim Cohron, vice president; Donna Tait, secretary; and Judy Beer as treasurer. Junior class sponsors were Lillian Howry, George Magrane, Joe Nelson, Milton K. Schulz, and Hulda Stomberg.

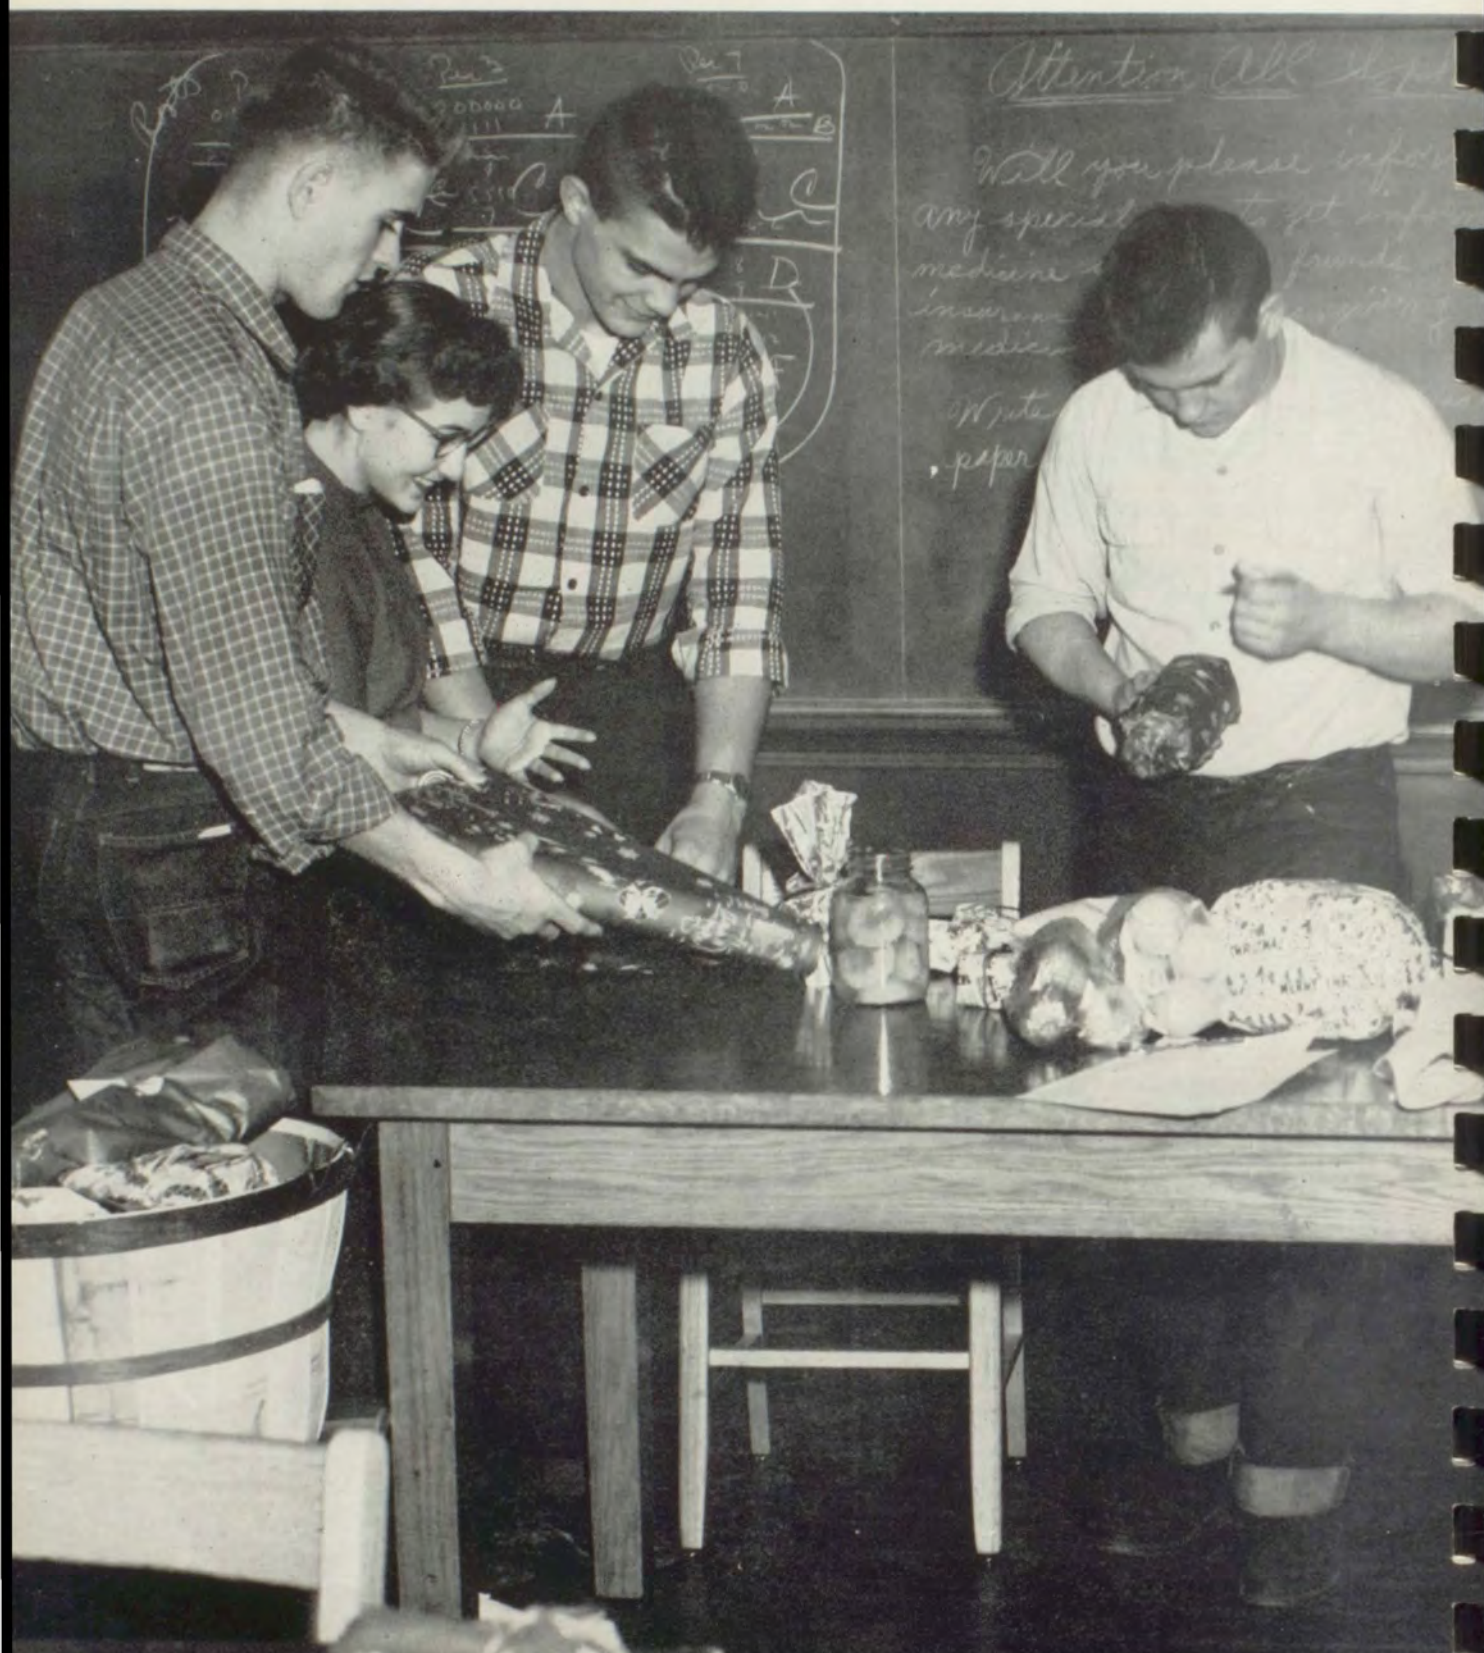

Because of the systematic collection of dues during their Freshmen and Sophomore years, the class was financially able to assume the prom expenses. Another source of income was the selling of pop at the Pancake Day celebration.

Many Juniors worked hard to make the 1956 prom a success. The theme of the prom was Rhapsody In Blue. A large crowd attended the colorful event.

The Juniors are anxiously looking forward to next year when they will rule as Seniors of Centerville High School.

SOPHOMORES COMPLETE A PROSPEROUS YEAR

The students who wandered around the school a year ago as neophytes started their second year as Sophomores with a look of "knowing how it is all done" on their faces. This year they were looking forward to playing the usual tricks that were played on them the previous year.

After the usual fun and frolicking the 134 Sophomores decided that Sam Bowen would again lead them as president. Aiding him in the administrating duties were Bill Bailey as vice president, Kathryn Bryant as secretary, and Ronnie Staley as treasurer. This all came about after the usual heated campaigning and balloting. Sponsors were Horace Fuller, Bill Jerome, Clinton Smith, Robert Taylor, and Ruth Whitmore.

The Sophomores were hosts to the Freshmen at the annual Freshman-Sophomore Mixer. Needless to say, a good time was enjoyed by all.

Again the Sophomores filled the till by collecting class dues.

FRESHMEN BECOME ACQUAINTED WITH C. H. S.

Things around Centerville High School appeared new and strange to the new crop of freshmen. In many cases the new pupils were bewildered by the size and scope of the Centerville High School plant.

The first few days for the freshmen were spent in orientation and taking tests. The orientation period helped acquaint the neophytes with not only the building but also the teachers, other classmates and courses.

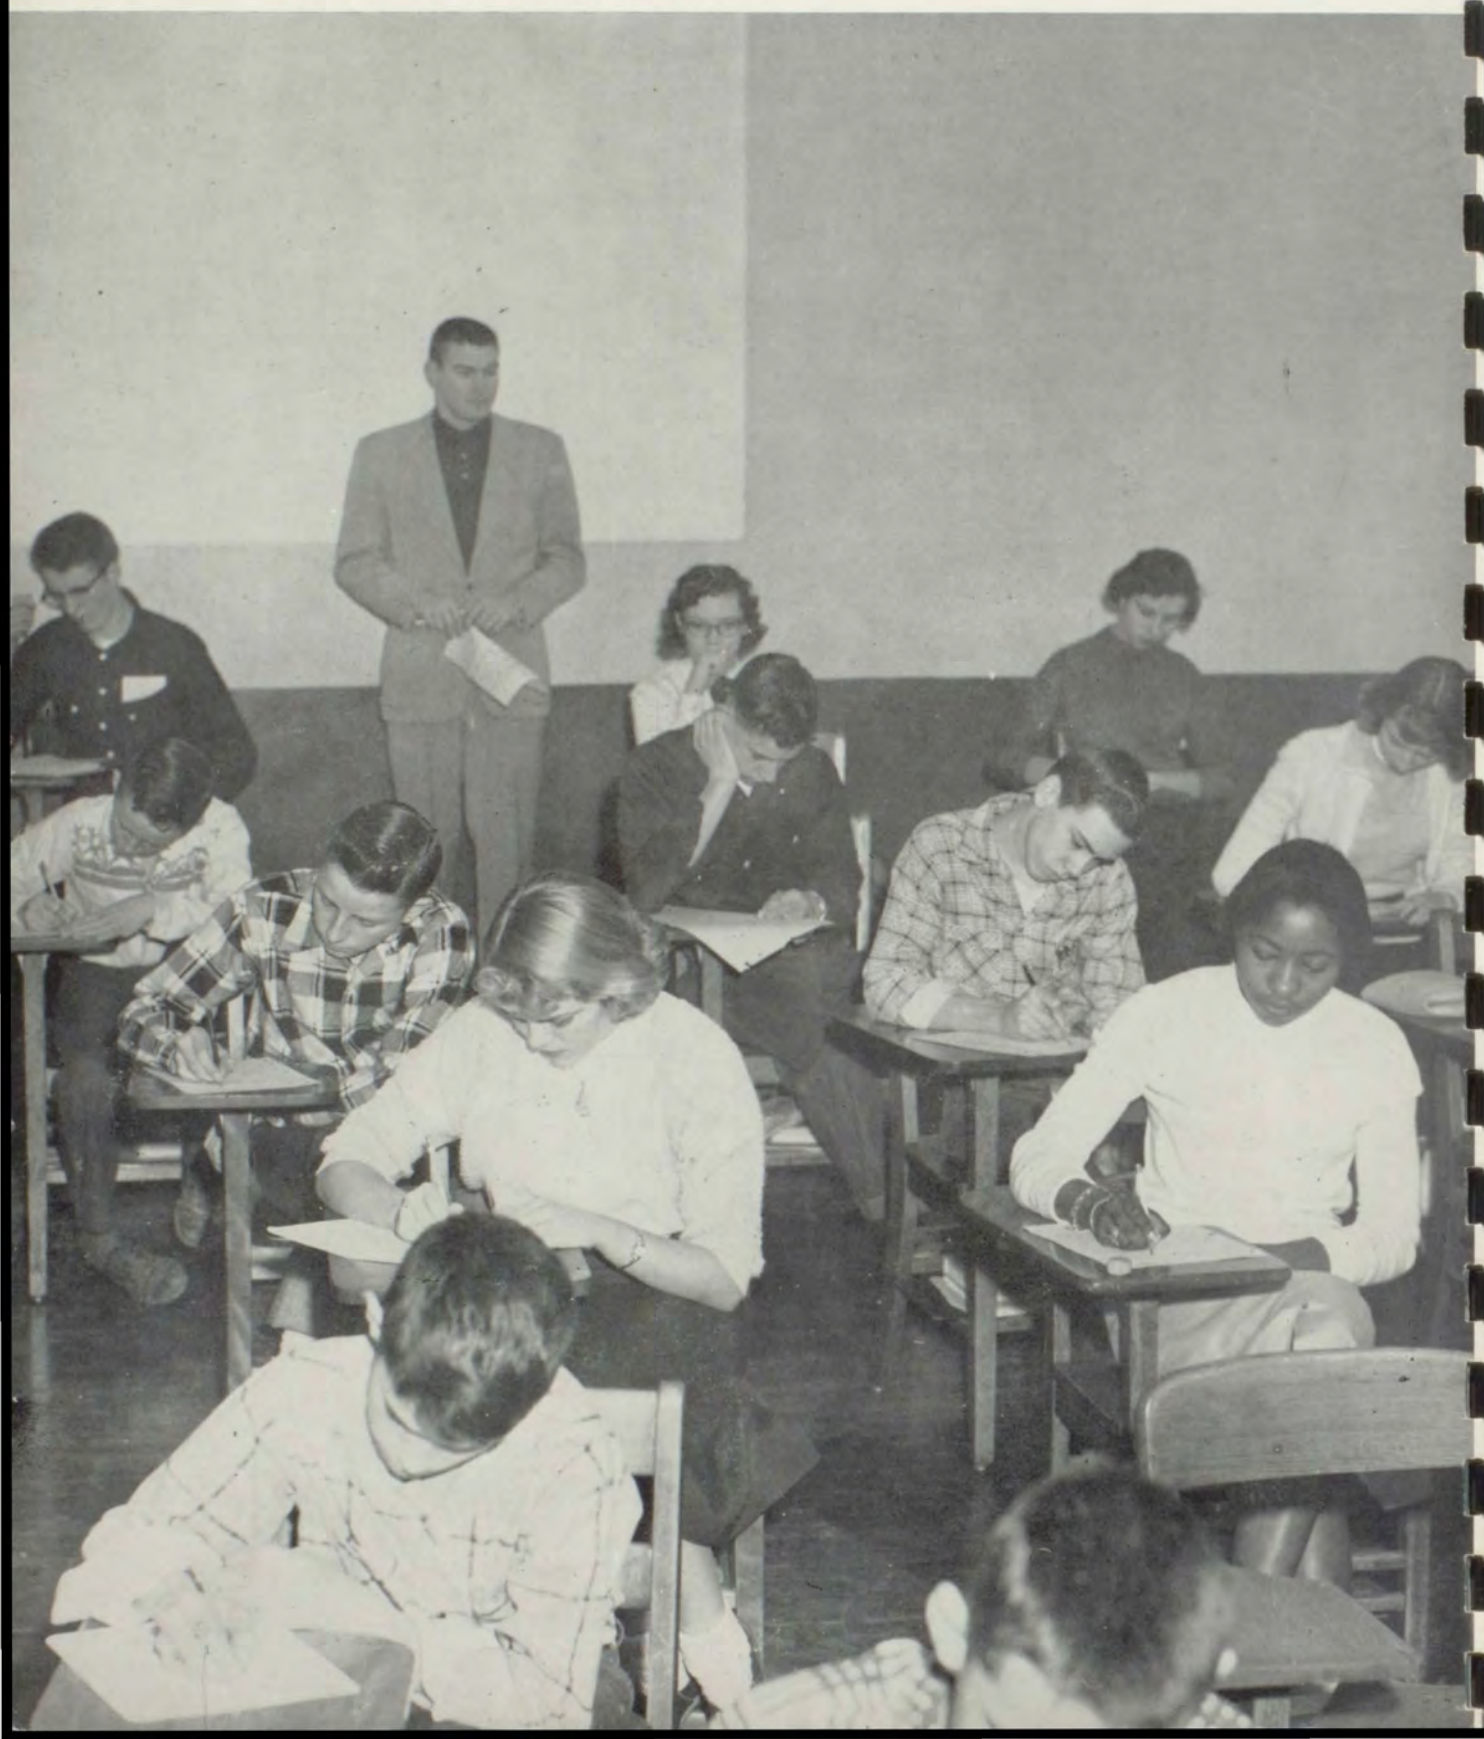

Class election was the first major activity for the new freshmen. After all the ballots were counted, Lyle Linder was named president of the class. Other officers were Kenneth Boyer, vice president; Carolyn Johnson, secretary; and Kathy Klum, treasurer.

The goals of the class were to prepare for the prom and the senior trip.

Freshmen sponsors were Edith Clark, Bill Cummings, C. J. Hart, and Clinton Smith.

ALLIED YOUTH

The Allied Youth follows a positive program of education and alcoholic-free recreation. Organized just two years ago, the Allied Youth has come a long way in promoting this program. The main project of the year was the sponsorship of a "Brotherhood Week" assembly.

Two meetings were held each month. The first was a business meeting and the second was a recreational meeting. Refreshments were served at every meeting. Money was earned by selling candy in the halls at the beginning of the year.

Officers for the year were as follows: Jo Ann Long, president; Judy Dooley, vice president; Lucille Padavich, secretary; and Judy Coulter, treasurer. Paul Johnson and Joe Nelson acted as sponsors for the group.

ART CLUB

A new organization of C. H. S. is the Art Club. The main purposes of the Club are the furthering of artistic interests, providing more art for the members, and for general social purposes.

The Club participated in several interesting projects. The members made a mural in the Youth Center, program covers for Teachers' Federation Dinner, stage setting for the Christmas concert, mobile and table decorations for the kickoff basketball dinner, and entered the Scholastic Art Awards Contest in Des Moines.

The Club is composed of eighteen members. Officers for the year were Mary Gesualdo, president; Pat Benjamin, vice president; Beth Lindsay, secretary; and Wayne Daniels, treasurer. Robert Rathbun was the sponsor.

BLACK DIAMOND

This year the Black Diamond Staff has produced a new and different yearbook. Lay-out plans were changed considerably.

Black Diamond activities for the year included contacting advertisers at the beginning of the year, gathering material for the contents of the book, and presenting the seventh annual Black Diamond Dance on March 23. Highlight of the evening was the crowning of the king and queen and their attendants and escorts.

Instrumental in the creation of the 1956 Black Diamond were the following people:

CADETTES

The Centerville High Cadettes have gained much fame and recognition throughout the state of Iowa. This year the Cadettes marched for Pancake Day, Homecoming, Iowa-Minnesota game at Iowa City, Iowa State, February 4, Don Bell Disc Jockey Television Show, KRNT, and many basketball games in Centerville and out of town.

New uniforms were purchased with the money raised by a Cadette dance sponsored by the Cadette Fathers. The uniforms consisted of fur trimmed red corduroy. White marching boots completed the outfit.

The girls did a variety of routines to drums and records. Each routine was done in precision marching.

During the football season the Cadettes were composed of twenty-four girls. This was later cut down to sixteen for the basketball season. The Cadettes also had their own drummers. Mrs. Marilyn Jo Houser is the director.

red v-neck sweaters with a red and white megaphone insignia.

Peggy Clark, Dixie Exline, Pat Sanders, Judith McDanolds, Lucy Padavich, and Louise Gesualdo were the regular cheerleaders. The substitutes were Vivian Hixenbaugh, Judy Beer, and Judy Wood. Mrs. Marilyn Jo Houser was the sponsor.

Students acquire skills and knowledge through practice under careful supervision. Membership is not confined to those students who have had the high school driver training course, although the majority have received this instruction.

The club participated in several joint meetings with clubs from other towns this year. Meetings were held once a month.

A pot-luck supper was held at the Community Center. Other activities included helping the Junior Chamber of Commerce with the "Road" E-O.

All in all it has proved to be a successful and appreciated organization.

Bonnie Yonavich served as president. Other officers were Lucille Padavich, vice president; and Barbara Sacco, treasurer. The sponsor was Bill Baretich.

Three nominees for the State Farmer Degree and one nominee for the American Farmer Degree were named. The officers were: Jim Steele, president; Gerald Banks, vice president; Wendell Bailey, secretary; Gary Lotridge, treasurer; Joe Walker, reporter; and Larry Brown, sentinel.

Those girls that join the organization must have one year of homemaking in high school. The F. H. A. held meetings with the Moravia and Osceola chapters. For their Christmas project the F. H. A. packed boxes of candy and cookies to take to pension homes. A Valentine luncheon was held in the winter, and a Senior (F. H. A.) luncheon was held in the early spring.

The officers for the year were Mary Gesualdo, president; Jo Ann Long, vice president; Margaret Ayers, secretary; Karen Seeley, treasurer; Rosalee Bowdish, parliamentarian; Katherine Johnson, historian; Louise Hackathorn, recreation chairman; and Louise Gesualdo, publicity and projects chairman.

The Hi-Y Club of C.H.S. has as its purpose to create, maintain, and extend through the school and community high standards of Christian character, to learn the true meaning of responsible citizenship through significant service to the school and to the community, to participate in wholesome creative recreational activities that will contribute to the building of strong, disciplined bodies and healthy emotions, and to build bridges of understanding, justice, good will, and co-operation between all peoples, races, and creeds.

The Hi-Y presented a very impressive Easter chapel. They staged "Operation Pick-up" and had a radio panel with Y-Teens. A bit on the gayer side was the initiation held last fall for the new members and a hobo party.

The officers were Jim McAnelly, president; Larry Clark, vice president; Jim Cohron, secretary; Rex Irwin, treasurer; and Richard Woodin, chaplain. Mr. Hart was the sponsor.

Under the leadership of Jean Miller, president; Joyce Beaty, vice president; Kathryn Sharp, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Wiseman, sponsor; the Librarians Club had another enjoyable year, as well as providing a great deal of service to the school.

Librarians Club meetings, which are held monthly, include a discussion of means of improving library service, librarianship as a career, reviews of books and magazine articles, panels, contests, and quizzes.

The membership is divided into three committees. The Program committee plans the meetings and makes the yearbooks. The Public Relations committee is responsible for bulletin board displays in the study hall, making the Y-Teens present solemn Thanksgiving Chapel.

Y-TEEN

The Y-Teen under the leadership of Mary Powers, president; Barbara Bradley, vice president; Sue Pullman, secretary; Janan Strandberg, treasurer; and Jean Foot, sponsor, has completed another successful year.

This year emphasis was placed on the "Service" area of the Y-Teen program with the sending of Christmas cards to nursing homes in Centerville and with the donation of five dollars to World Fellowship fund of

Y. W. C. A. to assist "Y" work around the world.

Barbara Bradley served as district treasurer at the fall Southeast District Meeting with Centerville having charge of the registration desk.

The annual Thanksgiving chapel was sponsored by the Y-Teen. Sadie Hawkins Day with the entire school also proved to be one of the big highlights.

VOCAL MUSIC

The Vocal Music Department under the direction of Don Gunderson completed a busy year of activities. The Chapel Choir met on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. The Girls Glee Club met on Tuesday and Thursday.

Two concerts were held this year. A Christmas Concert was held near the holidays and the Spring Concert was held April 12. Both the Glee Club and Chorus attended the contest for all large high school music groups.

Like the small instrumental groups, the small groups have appeared at community meetings and contests. The Chapel Choir sang for Commencement and the Glee Club sang for Baccalaureate. Several people took part in the All State Chorus held in Des Moines.

Barbara Bradley and Judy Broshar were the accompanists.

SEASON'S STORY

Centerville's football team had a better than average season this year. The team won five games and lost four. In the conference standings the Big Reds won four and lost four, which gave them a tie for third place. At the conference jamboree in their quarter, Indianola out-scored Centerville by the score of seven to six.

Eight Big Reds got into the scoring column this past season. The scoring for Centerville was as follows: Warren, 62 points; Kovacevich, 23 points; Barton, 12 points; Scurlock, 8 points; Crowell, 7 points; McAnelly, 6 points; Buttel, 6 points; Estes, 1 point.

Warren and Sconzo, co-captains of the team, were the only Big Reds to gain recognition on the All-State or All-Conference teams. Warren made third team All-State and first team All-Conference. Sconzo received honorable mention All-State and made first team All-Conference.

YOU ARE THERE

May 26, 1981

This is your traveling reporter for station KCOG-TV reporting on the twenty-fifth reunion of the world-renowned class of 1956. The reunion is being held in the booming metropolis of Centerville, Iowa, where many of this fine class still make their homes.

We are now approaching the Centerville High School where the main portion of this event will be taking place. I see ahead of me the Superintendent of Schools, Wendell Bailey, who has been very instrumental in planning this event. Superintendent Bailey, hasn't this been a nerve-wracking experience for you? "Not at all. My competent colleagues, Principal Joe Walker, and Board Members Richard Glovas, Larry Drake, Edwin Martin, and Sandra Lemley, have helped me immensely. I also should not forget to mention the committee of businessmen who instigated this occasion: Eugene Fowler, Lain McWilliams, Cloid Miller, Richard Inman, Lane Pike, Robert Russell, and Bob Mitchell. You also might be interested to know that several of our faculty are members of this class: Professor of Senior English, Larry Houser; Professor of Biology, Senior Science, and Girls' Health, Wesley Shepard; and Co-Professors of Chemistry, Nancy Senior and Margaret Grenko."

Thank you, Superintendent Bailey. Now we shift to the stadium where various athletic events are taking place. Famous athletes of the class of 1956 have returned to demonstrate their skill for the alums. Scheduled for the morning are these various events: The Locals against an All-American baseball team, including World Series stars Jerry Barton, Jim McAnelly, Richard King, Tommy Leigh, and Joe Kruzich; a track demonstration featuring former Olympic champion Bob Warren; and an All-Star football game featuring Rodger Espy, Anthony Buban, Ralph Busetto, and Clifford House.

We are indeed honored to have with us today the "Vice" President of the United States, Frank Sconzo, who is now entering the field in a beautiful scarlet and black plaid Norrismobile (manufactured by John). With the "Vice" President are his body guards, Raymond Charles and Joe Clark, and President of the FBI, Gerald Banks. Seated on the "Vice" President's lap is his private secretary and illegal advisoress, Mary Powers. Already seated on the speakers' platform are several members of the President's Cabinet: the Secretaries of Delinquency and Defense, Ronald and Glen Hamlin; and the Under-Secretaries of the Interior in charge of Moulton affairs, Lucy Padavich, June Guffey, and Carol Walden. Following the "Vice" President's speech, the Governor of Iowa, Gary Karth, will deliver the alumni address entitled "How To Reach Glory Without Getting Gory."

Now let us switch to the High School Cafeteria where the banquet is being prepared by the chief caterers of the Tiltin' Hilton: Ava Teater, and the Printy girls, Josephine and Rosalie. This famous trio has been slinging vitamin pills for a period of ten years now. Waitresses for this event will be headed by Barbara Hargrave, chief waitress at the Tiltin' Hilton. She is being assisted by special waitresses Jo Ann Long, Jo Ann Fenton, Judy Page, Judy Boyer, and Betty Sconzo; and waiters Curtis Eddy, Loyd Straub, and Stanley Shepard. Table decorations were designed and created by the famous artists Janan Strandberg, Louise Hackathorn, and Mary Gesualdo. They were cleverly fashioned from twenty-five-year-old car wash tickets which were resurrected from the incinerators of C.H.S.

As the guests approach the dining hall, we see the winners of the 1981 Oscars, Penelope Hill, Rosemary Parsons, and Roscoe Daniels. Miss Hill and Miss Parsons co-starred in "The Life and Loves of Larry Clark;" and Mr. Daniels can currently be seen in "The Tuba and I," the life story of David Shkolnick. Following them I see Janet Waggoner and Susan Dobson who have recently won the No-Bell Prize for Chemistry for their amazing process of reassembling a smashed atom. Now we see Barbara Bradley, the first woman instructor to teach at Oxford University, who is practicing her English accent by repeating under her breath, "Rawzberries and crream, rawzberries and crream."

During the banquet, floating melodiously over the intercom, comes the voice of crooner Simon Estes, singing hit tunes by the songwriting sensation Bethalor, recently revealed to be a collaboration between Eleanor DeVore and Beth Burghoffer. Scheduled to appear after the banquet is a floor show comprised of dancers Peggy Clark, Patty Stoner, Barbara Sacco, Jean Miller, Carol Hedberg, and Bonnie Mosley. These girls have been seen previously in the Broadway spectacular, "Ferris Wheel," a sequel to "Carousel." Also appearing on the program are Mrs. Rosalee Bowdish Liberace and her son, who are currently billed in the night clubs as "Libby and Mom." Next in line will be a figure skating demonstration by Atwell, Atwell, and Bartle (Florene, Lorene, and Flora-jo, respectively). Then scheduled to appear will be a fashion show featuring the world famous and Paris-trained 'AndSum Models headed by Susan Anderson and Don Sumpter. Their modeling staff consists of Vivian Hixenbaugh, Pat Howell, Bonnie Jones, Vera Lofgren, Rodger Bradley, Eddie Shaw, Richard Zemo, and Robert Underwood.

And now for a word from our Sponsor, Steele's Steel Piggy Banks Co., who has been instrumental in bringing you this program

"Thank you. This is Roger White, your spokesman for Steele's Steel Piggy Banks Co. (manufactured by Jim). On this auspicious occasion celebrating the twenty-fifth class reunion of the class of '56, I would like to take you into our factory which employs many members of this fine class. Here you see the assembly line including James Jones, Jim Porter, and Hazel Hughes, Body Moulders; James Terry, Larry Hernandez, and Sandra Simmons, Tail Curlers; and Larry Brown, Bill Simpson, and Pauline Zemo, Nose Flatteners. Next we take you to the commercial department and Steele's crew of lap-sitters, among whom are Judy Dooley, Mary Laird, Eleanor Radosevich, Florence Purvis, Joyce Lewis, Rosalee Gardner, Kathryn Johnson, and Catherine Thomas. Now we take you into the office of Gary Lotridge, Litter Distributor, whose main duty is to make sure that the litter of piggy banks are placed in good homes. We had intended to introduce you to Vice President George Ryan, but at the moment he is dictating to his private secretary, Nancy Hender-shot, and cannot be disturbed. Here in the next room is located the Factory Infirmary which is under the supervision of Head Nurse Judith Wiles. Her assistants include Marie Wilson, Nancy Edwards, and Karen Seeley. At the moment Jim Briggs is being treated for burns he received when he sat down accidentally on the Tail-Curler, and Jim Galloway is being slowly revived from a nasty blow he received when he got in the way of the Nose Flattener. However, both seem to be coming along fine and with the expert care of these ladies in white will be back on the job before too long. I hope this little tour has given you some idea of how our plant is run and just what expert and efficient service goes into the making of Steele's Steel Piggy Banks. And now here is Miss Bonnie Yonavich with an added last reminder."

"Buy Steele's Steel Piggy Banks,
They're the best, you know.
Run out and buy one right away,
So you can hoard your dough."

"Thank you, Bonnie. And now to return you to the farewell ceremonies of the class reunion."

We're just in time to catch the farewell ceremonies of this memorable event. As the guests leave the banquet hall, we can hear them hopefully cheer, "See 'ya later, Alligator!" But deep in their hearts we know they mourn, "Never more, Dinosaur."

WILLING WORKER

ALERT, efficient household servant to run errands, order supplies, deliver messages to a large and growing list of people.

OTHER DUTIES: Stand guard for an emergency. Be ready to summon doctor, police, fire department. Make it possible for many other people to keep in touch with you.

FAST, completely trustworthy and willing to serve twenty-four hours a day, 365 days a year. No vacations. No time off. Pay—less than a cent an hour.

Who Could This Wonder Worker Be?

Why, the telephone, of course. Night and day this alert, efficient servant is always ready to serve you. And the cost is small. Your telephone is a big bargain. Few things in all this world give you so much for so little as the telephone.
